MUJI Philosophy & Values

Philosophy

- 1. Selection of materials:
We use many recycled materials, with an emphasis on quality. This enables us to create low-priced, high-quality products.
- 2. Streamlining processes:
Processes that have no bearing on a product's quality such as sorting, sizing, and polishing are eliminated. Focusing on true quality, MUJI's processes eliminate waste and reduce costs.
- 3. Simplification of packaging:
MUJI seeks to highlight products' natural colors and shapes. MUJI products appear in simple packaging bearing only product related information and a price tag.

Values

- 1. MUJI is not a brand whose value rests in the frills and "extras"
- 2. MUJI is simplicity – but a simplicity achieved through a complexity of thought and design
- 3. MUJI's streamlining is the result of careful elimination of gratuitous features and design unrelated to function
- 4. MUJI, the brand, is rational, and free of agenda, doctrine, and "isms"
- 5. MUJI aspires to modesty and plainness, to appeal to a wide group of people

Usable as small compartment storage boxes inside drawers.

These can be used as small compartment storage boxes for drawers in polypropylene storage boxes. This makes them useful for neatly organising small office objects such as stationery and storing small items that tend to get separated easily. Features round corners that make it easy to remove items from inside and semi-transparent material that allows you to see objects from the sides.

Interior Advisor's Recommendation.

The standard dimensions of modules are based on "shaku", which is a unit of measurement used in the construction of Japanese homes. These dimensions are used in a wide variety of items ranging from large furniture to small storage items. For example, the height of a unit shelf is based on the height of a "kamoi" (lintel) or door, and shelf width is based on the width of a half "ken" (91 cm), so that they can fit neatly within the width of 1 "ken" (182 cm), between two columns.

Unit shelf module dimensions "175 cm and 86 cm"

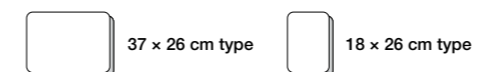

The 175 cm height corresponds the height of doors in Japanese homes. The 86 cm width is based on the "ken" (182 cm), which is a unit of measurement used in the construction of Japanese homes. "Outer width 86 cm, inner width 84 cm" which is slightly less than a half "ken" (91 cm), is a standard dimension for MUJI products.

Storage item module dimensions "37 cm and 26 cm"

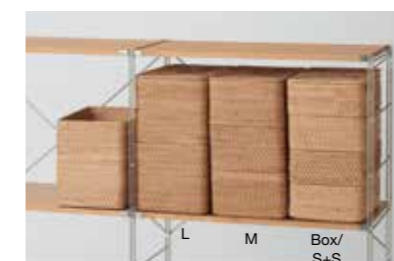

Storage item modules are sized to fit neatly in storage furniture with dimensions of 175 cm and 86 cm. The module dimensions of 26 cm and 37 cm, which are designed to fit on shelves, are based on the inside dimensions of shelves (W 80 x H 35 cm).

Compatible storage items

Country of origin of Rattan Basket

Rattan baskets sold by MUJI are made in Thai Binh province, northern Vietnam. Thai Binh province is a peaceful place with rice fields and free-range cows, buffalos, and chickens. In addition to farming, the area is also famous for its handcrafts, particularly items of woven rattan and bamboo.

Making a Rattan Basket

The rattan, about 3-5 cm in diameter, must first be split into 5-9 mm strips before it can be used to make a basket. The rattan baskets are woven by hand, by farmers. This rattan basket takes a long time to weave, only 1-2 can be made in a day.

Furniture

Oak & Walnut

Oak

Used for furniture and floorboards for many years, oak which is hard, solid and durable is a perfect material for long-lasting furniture. The delicate and soft expression creates furniture with a mellow impression.

Patterns called "tiger grain" which resemble the pattern of tiger stripes and its delicate and gentle grain are characteristics of oak. The look of oak is enhanced as the material ages over time.

Walnut

Walnut is a well-known wood material that has been used for furniture since olden times and is still used today for high-end furniture and crafts. It features a beautiful surface and little warping.

Ageing of the wood can be enjoyed as the wood contains a moderate amount of oil which provides glossiness and allows the wood to age well. Walnut is treasured as one of the world's three major wood types together with teak and mahogany.

Stacking Shelves

Free to be used horizontally or vertically, stacking shelves are a strong and attractive storage solution. A large number of our storage products will fit into stacking shelves, for the ultimate modular storage solution. Stacking shelves use metal rods inside and are available in both oak and walnut colour.

Basic configuration of stacking shelf

The units can be easily linked by connecting the steel pipes inside the dividers and fastening them with the bolts. MUJI's storage items fit nicely in these shelves. Original storage furniture can be freely created by combining a basic set with additional sets.

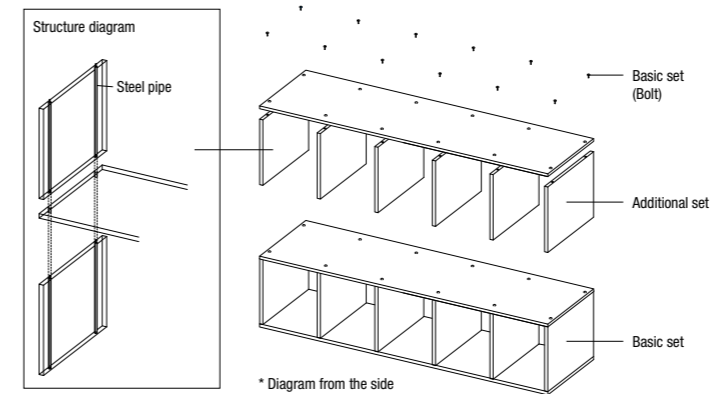

By combining a basic set with additional sets, you can extend the shelves vertically and horizontally to achieve your desired configuration.

This item is only available in depth 28.5 cm. You can choose from three heights.

Example: You can choose from two block widths.

Stacking mechanism

Example of Usage

Combination of differing tiers

Example of combination and withstand load

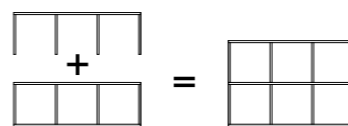

Narrow 5 shelf x 1 + Narrow 5 shelf Add On x 4

A combination method consisting of a shelf in the upright direction and additional units linked to the side.

Withstand load: 150 kg total = 60 kg x 5 units ÷ 2

Total withstand load when shelves are combined = Withstand load of set x number of units ÷ 2

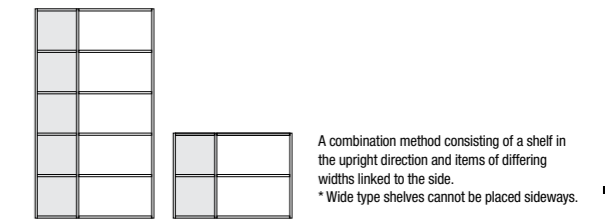

Narrow 3 shelf x 1 + Narrow 3 shelf Add On x 1

A combination method consisting of a shelf placed sideways and additional units linked on top.

Withstand load: 40 kg total = 40 kg x 2 units ÷ 2

Total withstand load when shelves are combined = Withstand load of set x number of units ÷ 2

Combination of items with differing widths

A combination method consisting of a shelf in the upright direction and items of differing widths linked to the side.

* Wide type shelves cannot be placed sideways.

Using as a partition

Shelves up to three tiers can be linked without attaching the included tip prevention fittings and used as room partitions.

* The partitions cannot be removed.

Basic Set The basic set comes in three types: 5 shelf, 3 shelf and 2 shelf, and two widths.

You can add components and modify usage to suit your child's growth and development. One of the charms of natural wood is that it changes colour with age. You can create functional, compact and easy-to-clean desk spaces by combining the desk with storage furniture of the same material.

Difference between down and feathers

Down

Light, soft, and heat retaining feathers which look like the fluff of a dandelion mostly found around the chest and stomach of waterfowls.

Feather

The portion which is commonly referred to as a feather which has a curved shaft and elasticity.

Natural grey colour

Many grey geese are found in quiet rural areas of Ukraine. Though domesticated long ago, the grey goose retains the dark colour reminiscent of wild migratory geese. The birds roam freely in a natural environment. When fully grown, the grey goose is bigger than a duck and has excellent mobility. The warm and strong feathers of the grey goose are ideal for duvets.

The geese on the farm are fed corn in the morning and after that, they eat naturally growing grass and insects.

Families of geese congregate on nearby lakes and rivers in early spring.

The geese return to the farm in the evening.

Tableware

Acacia

MUJI Acacia serving ware is made in the Philippines. Acacia trees grow more than 50cm in diameter; so just one single tree yields a huge amount of wood. Hollowing out the tree takes a great deal of skill and is carried out by expert local craftspeople.

Essential oils

MUJI Essential Oils are pure and natural, from flowers and fruits harvested in areas they are famous for, such as Lavender from Provence, and Lemon or Blood Orange from Sicily Islands in Italy.

What are essential oils?

Essential oils are the volatile molecules of a plant that most commonly provide it with fragrance, flavour and often therapeutic or aroma-therapeutic properties. They are extracted either through steam distillation of the leaves, wood and/or flowers, or cold expressed from the rind or peel.

The amount of oil extracted varies from plant to plant depending on the number of oil glands and method of extraction. For instance, it will take between 18 - 16 oranges to produce 10ml of essential oil; however, approximately 100kg of rose flowers will make 10ml of essential oil.

Blending Essential Oils

Step 1:

Select an essential oil according to the benefit you would like to produce. Smell the oil, and if you like it then put it to one side.

Step 2:

Look at the benefits related to the oils and select an oil that produces the benefit you are looking for.

Step 3:

Hold the two selected oils in one hand and waft the scent towards your nose, if you like the general scent continue to Step 5, alternatively return to step 2 and select a different essential oil.

Blending based on aroma

Step 1:

Select an essential oil based on the aroma, i.e. smell the different oils and select the one you like.

Step 2:

Select an oil and hold it in one hand alongside your original and waft the scent towards your nose, if you like the general odour continue to step 3.

Step 4:

Once you have selected your oils, smell each individually and compare strengths. If one is a lot stronger than the other, use less drops. If they are both equally strong, use equal amounts. (Note: this is also subjective, you may prefer the fragrance of one oil over the other and decide that you would like to increase the strength of that oil by using more drops).

Step 5:

Apply the blend according to the usage chart.

Skincare

MUJI's Sensitive Skincare Series is derived from natural waters of Kamaishi caves in the Iwate Prefecture.

The silky natural water pumped out from the cave is extremely soft, with almost the same pH level as human tears, hence it's able to soak rapidly into the skin.

Irritation on the skin is caused by many factors such as environment, stress and tiredness, so MUJI considers the importance of skincare that is gentle on the skin.

MUJI's sensitive skincare range is hypoallergenic, fragrance-free, Paraben free and Alcohol free, with no added colours or mineral oils. All skincare ranges contain natural flower and fruit extracts. This makes the skincare range suitable for everyone.
